Easy and convenient searching

Users can search a single eBook, a sub-collection on a specific theme – or the full collection. A list of subjects and eBooks can be navigated from the home page. An eBook can be browsed without performing a search. The basic search functionality is simple to use, while more advanced searching is supported by the combining of several indexes.

Many useful features

Breadcrumb navigation, citation export (EndNote, ProCite, Reference Manager), citation generator (apa, mla, tagged format), downloading of entries, InfoMark generator. Plus the benefit of Gale Cengage's new PowerSearch platform, which enables GVRL to be cross-searched with newspaper and journal content, giving users seamless access to a range of content types.

Selected by you

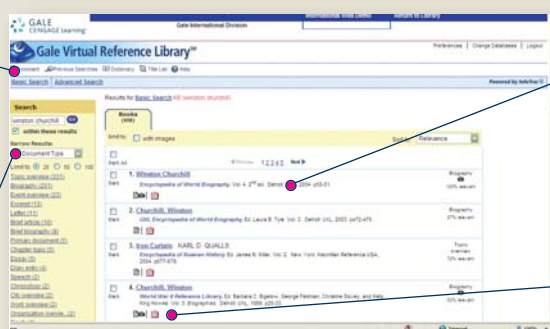

With GVRL you can develop your collection at a pace to suit the needs of your users and your library budget. GVRL enables you to offer a small collection in a specialist area as well as to make popular material available to multiple users.
